Manager Summary

> “Lisa is ahead of where we’d expect someone at seven months to be. The main gap is confidence, not capability.” — Jonathan Reyes, Product Manager

Key Strengths

- Fast learner; already running her own weekly customer interviews unsupervised after just over six months.
- Detail-oriented on QA before launches — caught two significant bugs before they reached customers this half.

- Well-liked cross-functionally; Engineering and Design both specifically praised her responsiveness.

Areas for Growth

- Still building confidence making prioritization calls independently; frequently defers to her manager on decisions she's equipped to make herself.
- Written specs need more structure; currently inconsistent from one project to the next.
- Would benefit from more exposure to the annual planning process, which she hasn't yet been part of.

Goals for Next Review Period

1. Make and own at least two prioritization decisions independently this quarter, with manager review after the fact rather than before.
2. Adopt the team's standard spec template consistently going forward.
3. Shadow the Q3 annual planning kickoff as a growth opportunity.

Compensation & Advancement Notes

Lisa is on track for a standard cost-of-living/merit adjustment consistent with a Meets Expectations rating, subject to calibration and budget approval.
