Manager Summary

> “Tom shipped solid work this half. Building a more consistent prioritization framework will help him defend the roadmap more confidently.” — Jonathan Reyes, Product Manager

Key Strengths

- Shipped the redesigned onboarding flow on schedule, improving activation rate by 9 percentage points.
- Collaborates well with Design; the working relationship with the design lead on his pod is a model for other pods.

- Good instincts translating vague customer complaints into concrete, testable hypotheses.

Areas for Growth

- Tom’s roadmap prioritization sometimes shifts reactively in response to the loudest recent customer request rather than a consistent framework.
- Data fluency is developing; still relies heavily on the analytics team rather than self-serving basic funnel analysis.
- Could be more assertive pushing back on scope creep from sales-driven feature requests.

Goals for Next Review Period

1. Adopt the RICE prioritization framework formally for the next roadmap cycle.
2. Complete the internal SQL-for-PMs training to build self-serve analytics fluency.
3. Draft a lightweight scope-change policy for sales-originated requests, with manager support.

Compensation & Advancement Notes

Tom is on track for a standard cost-of-living/merit adjustment consistent with a Meets Expectations rating, subject to calibration and budget approval.
